SOCIETY Merry- Go-Round

By Emogene A. Watkins

IF YOU THINK THAT THE only thing that appeals to people these days is dancing, or teas, or club meetings, you're wrong. At least one other activity will have to be added to the list now. They enjoy home shows, too. You have no idea how many new cooking tips they stocked up on!

I have attended home shows in many places, but no crowd could match the local crowd for interest and attention to features. Expectancy was, of course—a keynote. As hundreds of loyal homemakers sat with tickets in fan shape waiting for their names to be called, or lists of numbers as long as a lottery sheet, but their show of disappointment at not hearing their names was practically nil as they cast an anticipatory eye toward the offerings of the participants on the varied program. There were quartets, band groups, orchestra groups, glee clubs, Teen Town Singers, panel discussion, cake baking contest and a lively fashion show which featured appealing apparel that was enjoyed by all. There were even demonstrations in hair-styling.

And what was interesting to me was the number of men who made specific requests for recipe sheets. Some said that they were taking them home to their wives, but others admitted that they were going to try them out at the stove themselves. Then the exhibitors' booths were excellent too. Apart from all of this, I saw more relaxed people, who had come for sheer entertainment.

BIG NEWS THIS WEEK is the arrival of Delta May Week which is being observed nationally by chapters of Delta Sigma Theta sorority. Alpha Gamma Sigma chapter here has planned several activities to highlight their observance.

On Saturday, May 12 Breakfast for Milady will be held for the fifth annual time. At 10 a.m., ladies from all parts of the city will gather at Currie's Club Tropicana to partake of a hot breakfast of fried chicken, witness a spectacular fashion show, be entertained by an interesting program, win lots of prizes, and meet the 1956 Mother of the Year. At this time also, presentations will be made to the scholarship winner, and to the libraries of the various high schools.

It gets bigger and better each year, and it is an occasion you can't afford to miss. Much work has gone into the planning to assure you and your friends a morning you will long remember with pleasure.

Mrs. Othella Shannon is chairman of the Breakfast. General chairman for May Week is Miss Maggie McDowell.

SPENT A DELIGHTFUL EVENING with the JUGS and their friends on Saturday, May 5 when Miss Erma Laws was the perfect hostess. It was a very informal evening and before retiring to the card playing session, everyone was served buffet style from an attractive table centered with beautiful yellow roses. Food service was handsomely arranged in copper chafing dishes and consisted of barbecued chicken, especially tasty potato salad, asparagus tips, hot rolls and coffee in demitasse cups.

Arriving at a dramatic moment were club members, Josephine Bridges and Modene Thompson, in Josephine's brand new black and white Buick. We just had to go outside for more than a casual peek!

Club members present were Velma Lois Jones, Marie Bradford, Sarah McKinnie, Gwendolyn Nash, and guests: Vivian Ford, Jewel Gentry, Elsie Thomas, Bertha Cartwright and Gloria Weaver. High scores were made by Vivian Ford who received a lovely compact and comb; Gloria Weaver, who received gorgeous ash trays with tinted cigarettes; and Elsie Thomas, who won pretty gloves with pearls on them.

IN THE "PETIT PINK JAR"

Southern university was a visitor briefly in the Bluff City last week when he was the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Turner, Dr. Clark, who was recently appointed by President Eisenhower to the Board of Foreign Scholarships, was enroute from Pine Bluff, Ark. where he had addressed a group at Arkansas A and M college.

A DELIGHTFUL ACTIVITY among the glamorous Les Belles Charmants is the observance of birthdays of club members at each meeting. Sharing the spotlight at the last meeting which was held at Tony's on Saturday, April 28, were Johnnie Black and Vera Johnson. They received beautiful gifts. Hostess for the occasion was Rose Coleman.

FASHIONS AROUND THE CLOCK presented by members of the Good Samaritan club on Sunday, April 22 at Currie's Club Tropicana featured a variety of wonderful fashions. From 6 a.m. sleeping attire to 6 p.m. evening attire. It would have been difficult for any judge to single out any model for a prize, all were unique in their own ways. The program was equally as appealing with varied music and recitations.

The club members wish to express their appreciation to all who helped make the affair so successful. Mrs. E. B. Sawyer is president, and Mrs. Autry C. Chism is reporter.

ST. MONICA'S SODALITY, a group of the younger women of St. Anthony and St. Augustine parishes met on Sunday, April 28 in the recreation hall of St. Augustine's. IT WAS PLEASANT TO SEE the A. A. Branches in town over the week end. Prof. Branch left his duties as Dean of Toulaloo long enough to accept invitations to two outstanding week end social affairs in the Bluff City, the Omega Cocktail Party, and the Sophisticates' Spring Formal. A trip to Memphis every now and then is always to their liking they said. Mrs. Branch attended the meeting of her sorority, Delta Sigma Theta, while in the city.

Send Love To Mother With FLOWERS ON

Mother's Day

Sunday, May 13

There is always a feeling of inadequacy when one endeavors to express sentiment towards mother. Yet if there is any virtue about it at all, it is our efforts to keep trying to express such sentiment.

It is in this spirit we pause here to pay tribute to motherhood on this, another Mother's Day... and to suggest that the most appropriate way to express this sentiment is with Flowers.

We have a wide selection to choose from: POTTED PLANTS, CUT FLOWERS, CORSAGES OF ALL KINDS AT REASONABLE PRICES.

Clubhouse Setting For Lovely Wedding Reception-Of Mr. and Mrs. Scott

The Lella Walker Clubhouse was the setting for the lovely wedding reception of Miss Carrie M. a e Smith and Mr. John Allen Scott on Saturday, April 28, 1956.

Huge vases of white stock and fern formed the background for the receiving line and enhanced the radiant beauty of the bride. The bride was lovely in an ankle length bridal gown of white lace and satin. The long torso was effectively tucked from which flowed billows of lace forming the skirt. White satin peeked from under the lace tuck separating the fitted bodice from the billowy skirt. She wore matching lace gloves, rhinestone and white accessories with white satin pumps. Her corsage was a white virgin orchid.

The refreshment table was a handsomely laid with a white linen cloth and centered by the three tier wedding cake set in a circlet of white virgin orchids. White tapers in crystal candelabra flanked the wedding cake. Individual cakes decorated with twin wedding bells and a frappe were served the guests. A decorative arrangement of lilies and fern surrounded by red and yellow lights situated before a mirror added a unique double image effect to the decorations of the serving room.

Also in the receiving line were Mrs. Mary Scott, mother of the groom, who wore navy blue shantung with a corsage of white chrysanthemum, and Mrs. Mayona Larkridge, sister of the groom, who chose a dress of flowered cotton satin. Mrs. Anderson's dress was of natural broadened linen embroidered with gold and brown. Mrs. Johnson was attired in a frock of black Italian silk enhanced by a white bow at the neckline. Miss Burford was charming in black faille with a scooped neckline accented with rows and rows of pearls and rhinestones.

AT THE GIFTS

Gifts were registered by the personable Mrs. Lucille D. Scott who chose a pastel blue dress with insets of marquisette on each side of the flared skirt. The V-shaped neckline was outlined with folds of marquisette.

Bowen whose grey princess-gored cotton dress was styled with emphasis on the back pof, and Mrs. Mable J. DOUGLASS HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

By CLAUDIA MARIE IVY
Hello there! How are you enjoying the lovely Spring weather we are having these days. Before I go any further, I would like to apologize for not letting you hear from me last week, that is, if you missed me. Did you? Well, I missed you and do hope that the feeling is mutual.

The student body and faculty of Douglass was honored to have the illustrious Senator Cora M. Brown of the Second District, Detroit, Mich., visit us Friday, May 4, and give us a short but eloquent speech about the youth of today and just how we will fit into the world of tomorrow. Senator Brown is a native of Alabama, graduate of Fisk and Wayne universities. Incidentally she's a classmate of our own — Mrs. E. T. Johnson; they were together at Fisk.

So sorry that Geraldine Bell was not at home when WDIA called her to give her a nice sum of money. Gee, what luck. Geraldine says she was studying her lesson and of all times had cut off the radio. Better luck next time, kids.

The performance was well attended and well received by all those attending. "The Little Clodhopper" cast included Delores Jordan, Calvin Graham, Patricia Jordan, Sam Alexander and Ben Scales. We congratulate the characters and hope they will bring us another drama in the near future.

Mrs. Rose Murphy is now out of the hospital and we are happy to know of her improvement. We hope it won't be long before she returns to us all well and hearty.

Mrs. A. Bradford is also ill and we wish for her a speedy recovery. Mrs. Murphy is teacher of a division of the second grade and Mrs. Bradford is a sixth grade teacher. Also, as we write, Mrs. E. Westley is ill and at home. Hurry back teachers, we miss you very much.

amusement; Dr. James M. Nabrit and Dean George M. Johnson, both of Howard, participants in school segregation cases; and Phineas Indritz, who was also active in the school cases.

Memphian Seeks Top A & I Student Office

By MABEL B. CROOKS

NASHVILLE — A lively nomination convention netted seven candidates for campus office at Tennessee State last week; and stump speeches, parades, and TV and radio appearances literally set the political pot "a-brewin'." After the flurry of speech-making had died away Robert X. Williams of Memphis; Wilbert Davis, New York City; and Norman K. Spencer, Philadelphia, Pa., had been nominated for the office of student council president; William R. Thompson, Nashville and Walter Caldwell, Pulaski, Tenn., for vice president; and Miss Mary Jean Booth, Houston, Texas and Miss Jean Mells, Nashville, for "Miss Tennessee State of 1956-57." All are juniors. Robert King, Chat-anooga, election commission chairman gave qualifications and instructions; Hillary Parks of Nashville, also participated in the convention.

"Offering real potentialities as a laboratory government," according to Clifton Jeffers, senior of Roxboro, N. C., who was keynote speaker, the convention and its subsequent campaigning, p o l l working, and voting machine experience are educationally planned, and sponsored by University's political science department with the assistance of the student council. Dr. Sue O. Bryant is department head.

In his welcome, student council president Edward M. Porter, senior of Okmulgee, Okla., pointed out, "student government must contribute to the educational processes . . . protect the freedom of inquiry . . . provide equality of opportunity . . . and train students who will be willing and able to assume responsibility." The election will take place this week.

Wisconsin School In First Social Hour

As a culmination of immense work, interest and effort, the Parent-Teacher Association of the Wisconsin School entertained its friends at its first annual Social Hour on Sunday evening, April 22.

The group chose as its theme "APRIL SHOWERS" and assured everyone that "the evening would be showered with enchantment, song and flowers."

An interesting program was presented in the school auditorium with the dynamic Mrs. Georgia Bumpus as guest speaker. Remarks were made by the principal, Miss Frankie L. Cash.

After the program, the guests passed through the school playroom which was uniquely adorned with interesting art work from all grades. Upon leaving the playroom the guests made way to the cafeteria for refreshments.

As they entered the cafeteria they were astonished with enchantment as they viewed the decorations that were in pink, white, black and gold colors exclusively. Directly above the entrance was a beautiful pink and gold key symbolizing the "key to Spring happiness." Another treat was the unique arrangement of four large bamboo black, import-

Brutality Not Necessary

The job of a policeman is a hard and dangerous one. He is constantly exposed to the seamy, aggravating side of human nature. It is understandable that he must be more than tender hearted and squeamish in the discharge of his duties.

But there is a line which separates brutality from the needed application of force in subduing violators of the law and placing them in custody.

The incident of last week in which a youth twice escaped officers who were trying to stop him from dangerous speeding in the city, clearly illustrates the above.

After the officers concerned and stopped the culprit, eyewitnesses state that they proceeded to punch, slap, and otherwise abuse him. One of the white eye witnesses was so disgusted with the manner in which the Negro youth was treated by the arresting officers that he made a voluntary statement to higher authorities.

We think he was right. We think officers should not forget that the circumstances under which they are supposed to use force when seeking to stop a known criminal, are not the same as those when they are seeking to stop a known criminal trying to escape, to protect themselves, and to quell other attempts to prevent enforcement of the law.

It is high time that all citizens of Memphis, particularly Negroes, be freed from the concern that every time one falls into the custody of local law enforcement representatives he is automatically slated to be beaten up either on the scene or at the police station. Many people firmly believe that is what happens to arrested Negroes in most cases.

There are reasons to believe that this is not the case. But occurrences such as that of the speeding youth, who had given up when whipped, serve only to strengthen the belief, and weaken the will of people in general to lend moral support to policemen in the enforcement of the law. They see the officer as an enemy, not a friend. And that is an unhealthy situation.

Clarification Needed Now

Two young Negro girls, 14 and 15 years old respectively, are reportedly locked up in the Shelby County jail under indictment for murder.

There is no doubt that during the course of a fight over an apparently trivial issue they were the perpetrators of the fatal stabbing of another teen-age girl.

It is obvious, from evidence already submitted that the two girls held in custody, are slated for punishment for the part they played in the crime with which they are charged.

But what is not clear is why these two children have to be placed in the county jail. Many people don't understand it. The general impression is that underage persons charged with crimes, however serious, are placed in the custody of juvenile authorities.

This rule is followed to protect the children from further demoralization by keeping them free of contact with hardened criminals, and to provide opportunity for formulating plans for the rehabilitation of such youths, if possible.

Nothing so far disclosed in the two girls records indicates that they have been habitual youthful delinquents. What is the justification for placing them in cells in the county jail? Is it because of lack of facilities at the Juvenile Court's detention arrangement? Are they considered too dangerous to be exposed to the other children at the Juvenile Court? The public wants an honest explanation of this situation.

Parents in this community are concerned about this matter. It could happen to anybody's son or daughter.

We do not question the idea of punishing the girls for their crime. But serious question arise over the manner in which the punishment is being administered. Clarification is needed now.

Le Moyne Seniors To Do 'The Fury Within'

On May 17th the seniors of Le Moyne college will present a three act drama called "The Fury Within," on the stage of the C. Arthur Bruce Hall at 8 p. m.

The story of the play concerns the efforts of an old piano teacher to get even with her sister-in-law for taking her beloved younger brother away from her, while at the same time the scheming woman tries to prevent the marriage of her young nephew to a wealthy girl so that she will not be left alone again. This is only a bare outline of the main plot, but there are a number of counter-plots in the play which serve to be published for amateur production. It is drama at its best, and those who come to witness the local presentation are assured of an evening's entertainment that they will long remember. The play is written by Robert St. Clair, well-known playwright, novelist and motion picture writer. Those who are taking part in the local production are Jean Farries, Mildred Halyard, Charles Williams, Helen Bradford, Jesse Peacock, Ina Clair Thompson, Alice Joy Dossie, Maurice Bullett, Alfredo Saffold, Alma Jolly and Gwen Walton. The play is under the competent direction of Reginald Morris who declares that "The Fury Within" is one of the most fascinating three-act plays that he has ever coached.

Bomb Damages Alabama Home

BIRMINGHAM — (ANP) — Police laboratory experts are analyzing scraps of paper believed to have come from a bomb which damaged the home of a Negro letter carrier last week.

The home was occupied by John H. Sargent, his wife, two children and the parents of his wife when the explosion shattered several window panes and damaged venetian blinds. No one was injured.

Police said the bomb, which fell in the yard about eight feet from the house, caused a hole about five inches deep and eight inches in diameter.

Police said the bomb was probably a homemade device and stated it apparently was thrown at the house from a passing automobile. The front porch lights were on at the time of the blast.

The house is in a section of Negro homes surrounded by white homes. Sargent's neighbors on each side are white.

Three weeks ago Sargent's yard was the scene of a cross burning and it is believed that a bunch of firecrackers thrown into the yard of an Italian family nearby was intended for Sargent's home.

Flare-Up At Packing Firm Ends In Court

Strike violence flared last week among workers and officials of the Mc Candless Packing Co. at 1186 Riverside.

Three strikers were fined $50 each in City Court last Friday for threatening two white men who had replaced striking workers at the plant. A large number of Negroes have been employed at the packing firm.

Fines were levied against Willie Harper, of 1113 Indiana; Joe Lee Morgan of 1098 Indiana and Robert Woods, of 13101 N. Willett.

Malcolm McCandless, of 5470 Park, vice president of the firm, said the three men who had been walking a picket line threatened Oscar Greer and M. C. Owens with a baseball bat and a wooden club. Morgan told the court he had kept the bat at the plant to play ball with in his spare time.

ACCUSES EMPLOYER

A disorderly conduct charge against McCandless was dismissed. Sidney James, a striking Negro employee of the plant, accused McCandless of trying to run over him with an automobile.

The incident happened as McCandless was returning from the Police Station where he had sworn out warrants against the three pickets for chasing the white

An exciting new campaign to honor happy, healthy babies right in this community gets underway next week with the Pet Milk Company's announcement of the first "Pet Milk Baby of the Week."

Any Pet Milk baby who is no older than 3 years and whose parents live in this area is eligible to be named the "Baby of the Week." More details will be given in the paper one week from today when the first "Pet Milk Baby of the Week" will be featured.

DARK SHADOWS

Negro leadership

Mister, following is a paragraph from something everyone interested in the Negro should read. It's the last of ten paragraphs in an important statement. Here it is: "With love for our nation, good will toward all, utter devotion to the Federal Constitution, and undying faith in God, we intend to continue our struggle for the complete victory of freedom on every front, and preservation of the soul of the nation, whatever the cost. And if we are slain by the forces of oppression before our high purpose is achieved; we pray that our blood shall help to fertilize our hallowed soil for those who come after us; and our sacred dust shall be a silent testimony and a lasting memorial to our eternal quest for justice, peace and good will."

Pretty high-flown language, ain't it? Well, the nine paragraphs which preceded the one just read are equally high-flown and pointed. They are the paragraphs set forth in a manifesto by Dr. Joseph Harrison Jackson, president of the National Baptist Convention, U. S. A., Inc., and adopted by Executive Committee of the National Baptist Convention in Chicago, April 3, 1956. The paragraphs were set under the head of "a declaration of Negro intentions."

"The 'Declaration' was unanimously approved by 'The State of the Race Conference,' representing a cross section of Negro leaders, who assembled in Washington, D. C., late last month, (April 24) from all sections of the nation."

Dr. Jackson's statement of "Negro Intentions" definitely established him as a leader of deep insight and clear understanding. Evidence of this is not only his leadership of the thousands of Negro Baptists in the world, but also the acceptance of his interpretations by the representative cross-section of Negro leaders who approved his "Declaration."

What's of particular interest just here is the manner in which the "Declaration of Negro Intentions" was formulated. It was done with the cooperation and endorsement of recognized Negro leaders. As far as can be discerned it was not something dictated by outside influences working through handpicked so-called "Negro leaders."

A study of the composition of the Negro leaders group which met in Washington shows few men who owe their positions of leadership to influences outside service in the Negro race, through the preference of Negroes.

Too often Negro leaders are not leaders chosen by Negroes. This is understandable but regrettable. It is regrettable because in the final analysis when the chips are down, leadership which owes its elevation to white people has a divided allegiance. It suffers from divided sentiments among Negroes. For no matter how competent or serviceable, such leadership is always suspect. It is suspect by the white people who select it, for it may forget its creators.

That's why one so often hears white people complaining that Negroes are ungrateful. What they mean in many cases is that some Negro whom they have helped to attain a position of leadership, turns out to be more loyal to what he thinks are the Negro's and his own best interests, than he is to the interests of anyone else.

Handpicked Negro leadership, selected by whites, is also suspected by Negroes. Negroes are never quite convinced that such leadership is entirely all out for Negroes.

That's one of the main reasons so many inter-racial committees and the like fall so flat on their collective technicolor faces in so many places. It seems a part of the great Southern tradition for white groups, voicing their good intentions, to select a handful of Negroes who have already made the grade by their standards and whom they have been calling or recognizing as leaders all along.

Then they are surprised by the lack of enthusiasm on the part of the mass of Negroes. Well, it might be well to ask who are the Negro's leaders? Well-I?

SCENE

The accent this week seems to be on organizations as time is nearing for the end of the fiscal year for most of them. Many are electing new officers and others have decided to retain the same officers. Whatever the case may be, we hope the past year has been a happy one and the one to come equally as fine.

Keeping in stride with Greekdom the six Greek letter organizations which have graduate chapters in Jackson have come together organizing a Pan-Hellenic Council. They are Sigma Gamma Rho, Delta Sigma Theta and Kappa Alpha Alpha sororities and Alpha Phi Alpha, Kappa Alpha Psi, and Omega Psi Phi fraternities.

Representatives from the organizations forming the council are: Mesdames Cleo Saunders, Mildred Shaw Harris, Lavera Seat Avant, and Miss Darlene Hutson serving as alternate from Sigma Gamma Rho; Mesdames Bertha Hill Collins, Anna L. Cooke, Miss Johnnie Reid with Mrs. Victoria Pulliam serving as alternate from Delta Sigma Theta; Mrs. Nelda Williams, Misses Juanita Peoples, Jessie Brooks and Mrs. Carrie Seat, alternate from Alpha Kappa Alpha; T. J. Womack, R. L. Gibbs, Charles Williams and V. J. Gilmore, alternate from Alpha Phi Alpha; S. H. Bronough, W. E. McKissack, W. R. Bell and J. Hughes from Omega Psi Phi; W. F. Jackson, J. O. Perperner, J. H. Parrish and C. L. Robinson, alternate from Kappa Alpha Psi.

Officers for the Pan-Hellenic Council have been named as W. E. Jackson, president; Mrs. Bertha Hill Collins, 1st vice pres.; Mrs. Cleo Saunders, 2nd vice pres.; Miss Juanita Peoples, recording secretary; S. H. Bronough, corres. secretary; Mrs. Anna L. Cooke, reporter; Mrs. L. Seat Avant, treasurer and Charles Williams, parliamentarian. Introducing the Council to the community, giving its purposes, etc., you are asked to tune in on Station WJAK, Sunday, May 20 for the "Good Neighbor Speaks" program.

PTA OFFICERS NAMED
The regular monthly meeting of the Merry High school Parent-Teacher Assn., was held at the school auditorium the 2nd Tuesday in April at which time the election of officers took place. James M. Cain's "Slightly Scarlet" High-Voltage Film Entertainment

"Slightly Scarlet," a typical James M. Cain dramatic shocker of bullets, blackmail and beautiful women, opens at the NEW DAISY Theatre Sunday for a three-day run. It should have a highly successful engagement, for it contains all the ingredients which made his "Double Indemnity" and "The Postman Always Rings Twice" popular film entertainment.

John Payne, Arlene Dahl and Rhonda Fleming co-star in "Slightly Scarlet" and Producer Benedict Bogaeus has given the RKO Radio feature a handsome setting in Superscope and Technicolor. The hard-hitting drama and explosive excitement of the action is neatly balanced with some high-voltage love scenes in which the Misses Dahl and Fleming, two of the screen's most beautiful redheads, provide pulse-quicken interest.

Payne portrays a handsome investigator for the crime syndicate boss of a city in which graft and corruption have become deeply rooted. Given an assignment to check on the background of Rhonda Fleming, secretary of Kent Taylor, a reform candidate for mayor, he discovers that her sister, Arlene Dahl, is a kleptomaniac recently released from prison. When both sisters reveal a romantic interest in Payne, a situation develops which leads to a powerful climax.

HIGH VOLTAGE DRAMA. John Payne and Rhonda Fleming, and the forces of crime and corruption closing in on them in "Slightly Scarlet," Benedict Bogaeus-RKO production in Superscope and Technicolor. Arlene Dahl also co-stars in this right-bet-in-the-eyes story of smart operators and beautiful red heads, opens at the NEW DAISY Sunday for a 3-day showing.

Mothers are so happy Mothers' Day is here again. They just know that their families are going to give them some token of appreciation. How nice it would be if mother just had no meals to prepare on her day at all. Perhaps that would not work out so well though. But a nice little family party for Sunday afternoon or Sunday evening could easily be arranged. If you are more ambitious several families could get together for a surprise party for all your mothers. If its really going to be a surprise party you will have to plan a party that requires very little preparation and get each family to take part to make a definite contribution for example the place, salad, bread, candy and nuts, dessert, plates, etc. When you get your heads together planning a simple party will be easy. Just make it pretty with a color scheme. Your flowers and even your paper plates and napkins can help out there (Save work later, too.)

A real nice salad for the party could be this Buttercup Salad. For it you will need:
1 pint cottage cheese
Salad greens
8 Canned cling peach halves
Marshmello cherries
Watercress

Arrange mound of cottage cheese on each garnished salad plate. Top with drained peach half, cut side up. Quarter second peach half and arrange petal fashion around peach in center. Garnish with watercress.

doing the same thing again. He is seldom at home and never takes me out. I love my husband and our daughters adore him. One of them is sickly and separation would be very upsetting. Yet my friends say I am wasting my time. What can I do? Worried.

Dear Worried:
My advice is to stick it out. With perseverance, prayer and through the power of love, you will almost certainly win your husband back. Consider a few pros and cons of the matter. The other woman wants you to leave, so she can quickly attach the man you relinquish. Why let her cheat you out of your home, as well as your husband? You have the security, the name and your children have the protection of their father.

nish with cherries and springs of watercress. Makes 4 servings.

If you will have more than four for your party you may get one large can peach halves and one medium or small can sliced peaches to save time in preparation.

After you've decided on the main part of your menu, you can serve cake and ice cream for dessert. This is a dessert that is always a favorite with any group. You can buy your favorite cake mix for quick cake and use a powdered sugar icing. Of course, you may have a favorite cake recipe that you like to make, but if you are looking for a short cut the cake mix is your answer. Then to make this party really easy on yourself just order or pick up some delicious and refreshing ice cream from your favorite market, drug or grocery store.

Mother will be so proud that you remembered her day and you will be just real proud of yourself for having given mother a perfect party.

"BALLET PRESENTED"

The famed annual "Washington's Ballet," was presented Tuesday night, May 1, at the Ellis auditorium to a capacity crowd. The theme of this year's ballet was "Moods in Harmony" and it was divided into five scenes. Scene I dealt with the "Rock and Roll." Scene II entitled "Boots and Saddle," changed to the Western side of view. Scene III classified as "Ballet Parisienne" was the classical scene with toe dancing. Scene IV which was classified as "We Seek A Heaven" was the spiritual scene, and the final scene Scene V, classified as Sounds and Movements.

Now let's see what was involved in each one of the scenes. In scene one, Fred Gaither opened this very first scene up dancing savagely to the beat of the drums, followed by the Kings' Men Quartette singing "At My Front Door," with the Nekkies Hoke Chorus working out clean.

CROWD SWOONED

The Princess Quartette is said to have swooned the crowd as they sang the Harts recording of "Goin Home To Saty." The Harpers, a brother dance act were there on hand doing the latest in dances as the King's Men sang "Witchcraft."

Receiving many laughs were the comies; Johnnie Terry and Eddie Wright, with their host of wise cracks. Doing a tap solo to the tune of Sugar Baby was Shirley Parlee. The climaxing number of Scene I was a dance by the sophisticated.

Before time for Scene II, to appear the King's Men took the spotlight for a few minutes singing some of their original compositions. Scene II, was opened with the Square Dancers dancing to "Old Susanna." After that, to change the tempo was "St. Clair Alexander" singing "Everybody's Got A Home."

Another skit under the auspices of Mrs. Rhinehart including Robert Hall, Mary Patterson and Ida Hollis was another comic entitled "Word Weary Willie."

THEY BANG BANGED

The Rangerettes (Cow Girls) were really "Deep in the Heart of Texas" as they bang! barged! on stage.

Thrilling the audience was really nothing for Josephine Jones and Claudine Hester, along with the boys. Claudine sipped a glass of water in a backbend position while Josephine was busy taking her whole body in and out of her arms.

Scene III, as I fore-stated was the scene in which we see much toe dancing. Opening this scene was a vocal solo by Willie Shotwell and June Billups, followed by two very graceful toe dancers Jacquelyn Washburn and Josephine Isabel.

"The Nut-Cracker Suit" were sleeping flowers (girls) who were awakened by soloist Martha Little. Scene IV, the spiritual scene was opened by Joseph Jackson doing a vocal number followed by Carol McSwain accompanied by the St. Cecelia Glee club did their interpretation of "He" as the dance chorus interpreted the song with their hands and movements.

SEYMOUR PREACHED

Miss Claudia Palmer another soloist sang "The Beloved City." A Spiritual interpreted chorus performed to the Senior Glee club's singing of "Judgment Day," while Lafayette Seymour preached the sermon.

Scene V, the climaxing scene was the "Most." It was the most because in this scene the Afro-Cuban Dance was presented, this was one of the most popular dances in the ballet. Also in this scene was presented the "Fashion K e e p sakes," with their weary way of walking in to the tune of Blue Flame. A part of this number was the "Rock 'N Roll Waltz," and the Charlestones; Mose Y. Brooks and Marsha Anne Caldwell who received many laughs for their cute way of twinstine.

The Rockettes, rocked things for a few minutes weaving across the stage. Returning again back to the stage was "Fred Gaither," who was really ready as he leaped into the air to climax the show.

FACULTY COMMITTEE

Henry McStanton was Master of Ceremonies. The "Ballet" Faculty committee consisted of Mrs. A. Benson, Miss G. Callian, Mrs. M. Galloway, Mr. L. Griffin, Mrs. O.

The Stars Speak

SATURDAY — At change of moon you may change many plans as much of your actions have been greatly influenced by same. By all means don't give up as much good holds ahead.

SUNDAY — Through neglect you have failed to live up to your weekly worship, but whenever you do have a change of heart you will find the same God who has been much better to you and all the world than you have been.

MONDAY — To all natives of this house we can associate great weakness in a sense such as being stubborn. I attribute this to a form of vainness which so many dislike being told or advised about by others. Whether we add or subtract we find the answer the same.

TUESDAY — Here is found much good. Those of this birth must be aware of imposters and the many great pretenders the world has to offer, as by your tenderhearted ways you are forever open for others who may take advantage of you.

WEDNESDAY — You may for a brief period experience a spell of sickness, however, it will not be a chronic condition and should not last but for a brief period. I would say you are allergic to many things in which you are not aware.

THURSDAY — Being a person with a very good understanding, try and bear with those who have not been as fortunate as yourself. All you need do is listen to the heart rendering stories you may hear from time to time as long as the story doesn't carry a price tag.

FRIDAY — By all means do not fail to follow your own mind, but in your love life you may need advice. So often you can mistake care, interest admiration and many other things for love, which means that unless we know its true meaning it so often leads to disaster.

The Democratic representative since 1942 surrendered to begin a four-months sentence for evasion of $38,500 in income taxes over a three-year period.

He announced he would not collect his pay as congressman during his stay in jail. He was silent on his future plans, but associates believe he will seek re-election this November.

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The celebrated Eisenhower grin is missing from the President's new "official" photograph.

The picture, which will be distributed by the thousands during the election campaign, shows a solemn, straight-mouthed Chief Executive without a trace of a smile.

The candid shot was snapped by George Tames, of the New York Times, on April 16, just before Mr. Eisenhower went on television at the White House to explain his veto of the farm bill. It replaces a smiling photograph taken by Tames in the same setting in 1952 as the President announced the end of the Korean War.
